FREEZING WEATHER RECORDED

Frost Accompanies 31 Degree Temperature Wednesday

McKinneyites awoke early Wednesday morning to find the ground covered with the first frost of the year—a frost that completely covered the grass, and all forms of vegetations, housetops and giving the appearance of a light snow over the city. It was the first time the thermometer had gone below freezing this season, the mercury hitting a new low of 31 during the night, according to E. Pearl Skelton, local government volunteer weather observer. Ice was reported by many citizens.

This was a drop of 13 degrees from late Tuesday afternoon when the thermometer at the local Municipal Gas company registered 44, according to Manager W. W. Taylor. It registered 38 Wednesday morning.

The sky was clear for the most part Wednesday with no sign of rain and perfect late fall weather prevailing. Old Sol was expected to warm things up considerably by noon. Very little if any breeze was blowing, making it an ideal fall day.

Although the mercury went to its lowest Tuesday night, local citizens were not nearly so heavily clad Wednesday morning as the wind, which had been biting for the last day or so, had subsided.

Slightly warmer weather was predicted for Wednesday afternoon and night, and Thursday.

He is university educated, is a former superintendent of schools at Trinidad, Texas, and, during the past year, was an English teacher in the West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon. He is an excellent teacher and public speaker, a hard student with a most pleasing personality. His many McKinney and Collin county friends wish him unbounded success in his sacred calling to which he has consecrated his life. His cultured wife, so these friends know, will be a great help and inspiration to him in his church leadership.

Funeral services for Mrs. H. F. The deceased was married in early womanhood in the Cottage Hill community to H. F. (Frank) Hibbitts, who was a McKinney barber for a number of years until the family moved to Dallas more than twenty years ago. The late Rev. Ben H. Bounds, uncle of Rev. P. Strother of Anna.

The deceased was a lifelong member of the Methodist church, retaining her membership at First Church, McKinney, after she moved away. She was a devoted wife and mother, a loving sister and a kind neighbor, whose days were filled with service and loving sympathy for those about her and many mourn her passing.

FUNERAL HELD AT SHERMAN FOR MRS. T. H. MASSIE

McKINNEY RELATIVES ATTEND FUNERAL IN SHERMAN

Mrs. Phoebe Cannon Massie, wife of T. H. Massie, 1401 East Lamar street, Sherman, passed away at the family home there at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday morning, November 7. She had been ill for only a short time. The deceased was a sister-in-law of Sam J. Massie, Burl Massie and Mrs. Jim Stiff of McKinney and Robert Massie of Mineral Wells. She was 60 years, 4 months and 25 days old.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon at the home of a relative, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Moore, at Sherman with Rev. Leo Johnson, pastor of the Oak Cliff Christian church, officiating. Burial followed in the Van Alstyne cemetery with the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home of this city in charge.

She had been a member of the Christian church since early childhood.

Miss Phoebe Cannon was born at Cannon, east of Van Alstyne, in Grayson county, on June 12, 1873, the daughter of E. H. and Alice (Tolbert) Cannon. Her father was a South Carolinian and her mother was a native of Tennessee. They were pioneer citizens in that section of North Texas. She was married to T. H. Massie at Van Alstyne on October 11, 1893. They resided in Van Alstyne until about six years ago, when they moved to Sherman.

A. L. RAGSDALE SUDDENLY DIES IN M'KINNEY

Albert L. Ragsdale, former McKinney groceryman, answered death's sudden call about 5:30 o'clock last (Tuesday) evening, November 7, at his home, 504 South Chestnut street. He had just come home from the Collin County Cotton Oil Mill company plant where he had been at work all day. Paperhangers were at work repapering his home. The foundation of his house needed some little adjustment so as to enable the door in one of the backrooms to swing clear, so he went under the house with a jack to raise the foundation at the point of trouble. His wife answered his questions about results to the door. All at once he quit answering. A neighbor boy, at Mrs. Ragsdale's request, crawled under the house which was two or three feet off of the ground and found him dead. His death is supposed to have been instanteous. He was a man of stout physique and unusually good health all of his life, never complaining of even the headache nor heart trouble or other ailments. His sudden and unlooked for death was a terrible shock to his devoted wife.

Born in Missouri.

Albert Leon Ragsdale was born March 26, 1870, in Dade county, Missouri, being at the time of his death, 63 years, 7 months and 11 days old. When he was only seven years old, his father and mother, the late J. Frank and Mary (McGee) Ragsdale, moved to Texas with their family and settled at McKinney, where he was reared and attended public

COLISEUM DOORS OPEN AT 2 O'CLOCK TODAY; 19TH ANNUAL EVENT

Thirty-Five Exhibitors Have Booths This Year; Cooking School and Art Display Are Features of 4-Day Event

After several weeks of preparation and diligent labor on the part of the ladies of the First Presbyterian church, the nineteenth annual Fair and Food show opened at 2:00 o'clock last (Wednesday) afternoon at the coliseum. This annual four-day event will be in progress each afternoon and evening the remainder of the week, closing Saturday night. The beauty and the color of the coliseum, delightfully arranged for the event, impresses all visitors as they enter. The large number of excellently decorated booths seem to vie with one another in the neatness of arrangement and beauty. This scene of beauty continues as the visitor enters the adjoining building which has been walled up, heated and delightfully arranged.

The popularity of the food show this year is attested to by the fact that all of the old exhibitors are back again this year with a number of new ones.

T. P. & L. Cooking School.

There are a number of features, including the Texas Power & Light company cooking school which will begin each afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All housewives of this city and community are invited to attend. Mrs. Eva Mashburn, home economist of the T. P. & L. company, has been secured by Manager Howard S. Ware of the local T. P. & L. company, to conduct this school. She is using a Waldorf Electric range. A change in menu preparations will be made each day. Miss Mashburn's lectures will be practical and of great help to housewives and she will explain and demonstrate the finer points of making cakes, pies, oven meals, salads, school lunches and sandwiches.

Art Exhibit.

Another feature will be the art exhibit sponsored by the McKinney Art club, showing the work of Texas artists and brought here through the cooperation of the Texas Fine Arts Association. Only pictures by the leading artists of Texas are shown in this exhibit which through the courtesy of the Fine Arts association are being shown in various Texas cities, thus giving Texans a view of the finest of their artists' work. Mrs. T. E. Craig is president of the Art club of this city which was instrumental in securing this fine exhibit for the show.

Of course, there will be a number of drawings, one at the cooking school each afternoon and one at the close of the show each night. Handsome prizes will be given.

The ladies of the First Presbyterian church have seen this pure food show grow from a very small beginning to one of the largest and most anxiously awaited events in this city and county. The event is looked forward to by hundreds of local citizens who attend regularly each of the four days.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Bozeman were among the McKinney fans at the Texas-S. M. U. game Saturday.

Judge Wallace Hughston drove to Centerville, Leon county, early Tuesday morning, where he had a case in district court coming up for trial and which he won. He was accompanied to Centerville by Dr. H. G. Ryan, now pastor of the First Methodist church, at Clarksville, Texas, but for the past three years, presiding elder of the McKinney District.

M'KINNEY BANKER GIVES TANGIBLE REASONS FOR BETTER TIMES IN COLLIN

THOS. JOHNSON ESTIMATES FARMERS GETTING DOUBLE THE TOTAL CASH PROCEEDS FROM SAME NUMBER BALES THIS YEAR AS COMPARED WITH 1932 CROP—GOING INTO 1934 IN MUCH BETTER FINANCIAL STATUS AND SPIRITS

"Collin county unquestionably is in a much more favorable economic condition in the closing days of this year than it was during the corresponding period of last year," remarked Thos. Johnson, vice-president and cashier of the Collin County National bank.

One reason for this statement he gave is that this year's cotton crop is bringing double the amount of new money into the pockets of the farmers of the county.

In round figures, the county produced 70,000 bales last year, averaging around $30 per bale, yielding a total gross income of $2,100,000.

It looks very much like the total number of bales in the county this year will run up around 75,000 and will average approximately $50 per bale, with total proceeds therefore of $3,750,000. Add to this sum, $750,000 more in Government plow-up rental checks, it gives a total of $4,500,000 that the farmers are receiving for their 1933 cotton crop which is $2,400,000 in excess of the market value of their cotton crop of 1932.

While most other crops are making a lighter yield this year than last, yet the selling price of some have increased in a corresponding way to the increase of the cotton market this year as compared with last.

Farmers also made their crops, this year on a lower cost basis perhaps than last and have bent their energies towards growing and producing their entire family expenses at home as nearly as possible.

These several factors, together with double the income on the same number of cotton bales grown this year as compared with last, has enabled farmers to vastly improve their economic condition this fall. Their indebtedness is being greatly reduced, and they will go into the new year in a much improved economic condition and in better spirits perhaps than they have been in for the last three years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. (Billie) Abernathy and the latter's guests, Miss Georgia Oliver Black, of DeWitt, Ark., attended the Texas-S. M. U. game in Dallas Saturday.

Miss Naomi Jackson spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Jackson, in this city. Miss Jackson holds a responsible legal stenographic position in Dallas.

COLLIN IN BETTER CONDITION

THOS. JOHNSON
Vice President and Cashier Collin County National Bank says cotton crop yields double income this year as compared with last.

The annual Stunt party, sponsored by the Blue Ridge Little Theater, will be held at the Community hall there Friday night, November 10. This promises to be the best and most enjoyable party ever held with many new stunts planned. Special music will be furnished by Jim Press, J. McGuffy, Mr. Cleve and Marshall Smith. Mr. McGuffey has some good specialty numbers and Wiggins & Son of Fort Worth will be the big attraction, as they are professional magicians and musicians. The party will end with an old-fashioned square dance which always proves to be the most enjoyable feature of the evening. Everybody in the county is cordially invited to attend. A small admission fee will be charged for the benefit of the Little theater.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Culwell and little daughter, Betty Jean; Mr. Culwell's father, L. E. Culwell; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lepeard and little daughter, Carline, all of Dallas, were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lepeard in McKinney. Mr. and Mrs. Lepeard are the parents of Mrs. T. E. Culwell and Carl Lepeard.

(November 6, 1908.)

Mrs. A. C. Varner of Gainesville is a guest of Mrs. William Hynds here today.

J. L. Brown, a mighty good farmer and citizen of near Allen, was here today.

George W. McCarley, who has lived at Blue Ridge for fifty-seven years, was in McKinney today. He reports cotton in his section to be a good crop this year, but the corn crop is very poor.

S. Wiseman of McKinney, W. H. Chandler of Plano and John K. Smith of Copeville are sitting as a Board of Jury Commissioners in the Collin County Temple of Justice this week selecting jurymen for next year's courts.

B. W. Jeffcoat, who brought in the Snow Hill election returns, was a brief business caller at our office. He tells us that the Woodmen will unveil a monument to the late Charley Brockman at the Odd Fellows cemetery at Blue Ridge at 2:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 15.

The imposing public drinking fountain in memory of Capt. W. L. Boyd, presented to the city and county by his widow, is now installed on the southeast corner of the courthouse plaza. Connections will soon be made for a pure, fresh, cool water supply for both man and beast.

The last round-up of the dry forces ended in a wet stampede.

The taxpayers of our nation grumble when a big bill for government existence is handed them. But, they grudgingly pay. They go to political gatherings to hear taxes discussed and re-discussed and come away more muddled than ever.

The season for "pumpkins smiling on the vine" has again rolled around. This reminds us that to the taste of this editor, an old fashioned pumpkin plate pie is a fit dish to set before a king. Yum, yum!

Collin Jerseys carried off some of the honors at the recent Texas State Fair at Dallas. Jersey milk and butter are necessities on every table and are the most wholesome and nourishing human food obtainable.

McKinney is well provided with amusement. The Ritz theater, Roy Brockman, manager, is a credit to a city of any size. Mr. Brockman's geniality and enterprise also do much to popularize the Ritz with the amusement-loving public of our entire city and county. The Ritz attracts people to McKinney from every nook and corner of the county. It has the habit, too, of giving value received for your admission ticket.

Some people never seriously attempt to learn anything about the business concerns of their home city and permit themselves to go along with a mistaken idea that their city can progress without business. It can't be done, and the sooner they realize this fact the sooner their city will grow to be a better place in which to live and make a living. A few of these people live right here in McKinney. Let's convert them to the bargains to be found in our city.

Conditions for the past several years have not been as we would all have liked them. Sometimes we get mighty blue. But, when we sit down in front of the radio and hear one of the world's greatest men speak—President Franklin D. Roosevelt—the blues are dispersed, our hopes are raised, and we are soon ourselves again. If there was ever a man on earth, who is trying to do something for the high, the low, the rich, the poor, it is Franklin D. Roosevelt. May God be with him and spare him to accomplish what is in his heart for all the people.

One time when Mark Twain was publishing a newspaper, one of his subscribers wrote the able editor and told him that he found a spider in his copy of the paper and wanted to know if it was a good or bad omen. In answering the letter, Twain said it was neither a good or bad omen, that the spider was just a wise old insect and was looking over the advertisements of merchants so he wouldn't make a mistake by spinning a web across their door only to have it torn down. Moral: Advertise and keep the spider web from your door.

Senatorial investigations into the affairs of the great commercial banks and affiliates reveal that millions of dollars were squeezed out of the general public's hands through promotion of highly-inflated and worthless stocks and bonds worth little more than the paper they are written on. Unnamed millions, yea, we'll say billions, are shown to have been poured into the bulging pockets of these immensely wealthy Wall Street boodlers. This, while the country wrestles with the worst depression in the world's history and millions of good men comb the highways and byways for work to enable them to buy a bite to eat. Is it any wonder that confidence in the industrial and financial leaders of the country has been shaken? A new deal for those who have been in the clutches of these plunderers of the people is certainly in order!

When the President wanted to put over his NRA program, to whom did he go? To the newspapers, of course. We don't want to toot the horn of the journalistic profession, but we do say that the newspapers had more than a little bit to do with the success of the NRA and other recovery measures. And, too, we wouldn't be a bit surprised if they did not have a lot to do with the depression. When things were good, the idea of a depression, unknown to ninety per cent of Americans, unthought of by the remainder, made good reading matter. The newspapers convinced the American public that the depression was here and then convinced them that recovery was on the way. The newspaper is a powerful weapon for or against—its side is sought by all in public life.

Political writers are trying to build up opposition to United States Senator Tom Connally in the campaign another year. Mr. Connally is completing his first term and during the time has risen high in the councils of the Democratic party. He is in close touch with the problems of his state and is rendering the people of this state service of a superior type. It is yet early to make a prediction but we do not hesitate to assert that Senator Connally will not easily be dislodged from his position in spite of projected opposition, which, it seems, is predicted on the desire of a few politicians to honor the memory of a once distinguished Texas Democrat. Texas needs statesmen to serve her needs now, not moments intended to honor one who served his day and generation two decades ago. Senator Connally is ably representing the Lone Star State and we heartily favor extending his term.

THE PEOPLES' CLEARING HOUSE

The Daily Courier-Gazette and Weekly Democrat-Gazette will print short timely communications that are acceptable. They must be free from personal abuse and libel. Authors must sign their names. The views expressed here in are the writer's—not these editors. Space is limited. This column will be called: "The Peoples' Clearing House."

FIRST TRAIL DRIVING IN '68

When Texas trail driving began in 1868 there was practically no monetary value in Texas cattle. Emerson Hough, in "North of 36," brings an imaginary herd from Matamoros, Mexico, up unchartered paths in 1867, but in the trail driving section where I was reared no cattle went up the trails until the next year.

Hides were worth more than cows, and dead cattle were, like mavericks, common property. Any man who found a dead cow on the range was privileged to take off the hide as though it were his very own. During this period unprincipled men in winter time, when range cattle were thin and weak, would kill the cattle to get the hides. If a cow or steer was found "on the lift," as we called it, one of these ghouls, armed with hammer and sharp ten-penny nails, would drive a nail behind the horns of the beast into its brain and take off the hide. Sometimes weak cattle would be chased until they would fall and then in this way be killed.

There was another local industry near Hallmark's Prairie which if ever duplicated, I was unaware of the duplication. Jim and C. P. Hopkins, realizing that cattle were valueless, that hides had some value and that hogs had much higher value than cattle, built a slaughter house three miles from our home and bought cattle, killed and skinned them, fed the beef to the hogs and then sold the hogs and the hides and made good money. As trail driving increased and the demand for cattle in Northern and Western markets increased, this slaughter house fell into disuse and was abandoned.

PRAISE FOR SHEPPARD

I want to express in this public way the appreciation and gratitude of myself and all other prohibitionists to the Hon. Morris Sheppard for his noble and heroic work for the cause which we still champion and which will yet attain triumphant and complete success.

Prohibition is as inevitable as abolition of slavery was—that cause had many setbacks, but won success at last. Sheppard sacrificed every worldly consideration for the sake of principle and right. Before this campaign he was merely Senator Sheppard, but now I admire and revere him as the greatest humanitarian and truest man Texas has ever produced. He is like Bayard, "the knight without fear, and without reproach." What he has done has done more than anything that has happened in many years to restore my faith in public men and the representatives we send to Washington. There may be many more there unknown who are just as true and patriotic as Morris Sheppard, but he has proved himself.

When we elect a man to office we want to know where we are "at." And there are no doubts about Sheppard. All honor to the one man who stayed on deck with flags flying to the last. In two years' time many thousands of voters will see his words were true and regret they were unheeded.

FIAT GOLD VALUE

Some of us fiat money inflationists are wondering what our gold standard advocates are going to do for a standard of value. They have been calling the gold dollar our unvarying "yardstick." What kind of a yardstick is this that measures so many inches one day and the next day a different number?

The only reason that gold seemed to have a stable value in the past was because the governments that made it a standard of value fixed the price. Without the fiat of government, it is the most unstable metal on earth.

If left like silver without the right of free coinage and given no more rights than silver, it would be worth less than silver, for in general use silver is more useful than gold. The best use of gold is to place it in the rotten teeth of the aged. I know some people like the glitter and bedeck themselves with it, but that is not a useful purpose.

If both these metals were admitted to the mints for mintage free at some scientific ratio, preferably 16 to 1, we should soon have sufficient money on which to do business and silver would immediately go to the old parity with gold.

But, I intended to ask those gold-standard letter writers to please tell us what has become of their ancient yardstick. And also inform us where the value in a silver dollar or silver certificate gets the value above the present price of silver, except by the fiat of government. The same fiat that makes United States bonds sell for their face value. All bonds and all money whether gold, silver, copper or paper depend for their exchange value upon the fiat of our great Government.

RICHARD POTTS,
Dallas.

SAYS GOVERNMENT SHOULD PROVIDE NEEDED LUBRICANT

In 1893 we had a "panic." Banks failed, factories closed, the gold in our Treasury was exhausted. President Cleveland sold over $200,000,000 United States bonds (mostly to England), so that our Treasury would have gold. Why this 1893 panic? The Cleveland administration gave us a low tariff bill. We could not manufacture goods as cheaply as Europe, hence we were forced to shut down all factories. This threw millions out of jobs. Being in the wholesale drug sundry, fancy goods and queensware business, I had to buy mostly from Europe. I had to pay in gold. This depleted our gold reserve.

Since millions were thrown out of work, our farmers and stockmen could not sell their products. This about broke them. It was a case of our people starving because there was no work for them and little money in circulation. Our money had gone abroad. Our factories were closed. Our farmers and stockmen were broke, millions being fed in soup houses by municipalities, Salvation Army, etc. That was in 1893-4-5-6 under a Democratic low-tariff administration and the lack of circulating medium brought on this panic.

William Jennings Bryan diagnosed the case. Coin Harvey saw it. J. H. (Cyclone) Davis discovered it. All three were great statesmen and prophets. Every effort was made by them to get our Government to coin more money and relieve suffering humanity. But the gold standard people (and I was one) voted McKinley in as President. His administration gave us protective tariffs, started the wheels in our factories, put people to work, and we were soon out of the panic.

Lack of harmony and a low tariff caused the 1855 panic. Now we have billions of gold and other currencies and a high tariff, and have had depression for five years.

Since about 1929 our money has been drawn from circulation, piled up in Federal Reserve banks and the small banks (the backbone of industries) have been unable to discount any kind of A1 securities to get money to carry on our legitimate commerce.

The fact is "the door is shut." The gas has been exhausted in the engine. The car has stalled on a dangerous crossing. The flagmen have stopped all trains, and we are all marking time, swapping onions for meat, bread for potatoes, eggs and butter for groceries, waiting for the filling station to bring some gas to start the motor.

Lubricants and gas will run the motor. These are wholly in the hands of our Government. Our President has been given plenary (war-time) powers. Our wealth is estimated at over $300,000,000,000. Our debts are about $20,000,000,000. We are not in the "red." Then, why do not the wheels of industry obtain this lubricant and gas and start the country back to prosperity? We are a rich country, yet bankrupt. We have an abundance of clothing, yet are naked. We have an oversupply of food, yet are starving. Such an anomaly never existed before. It is a tragedy. Give us gold, silver, greenbacks and commerce.

NEWSOME FARMS GATHERING BIG COTTON CROPS

SOME OF IT MAKING BALE PER ACRE

J. M. Gay went to Nevada Tuesday morning to look after business interests that he has at that place and to visit his mother, Mrs. Lou Gay, and his sister, Mrs. Walter McCain and family. Mr. Gay will return at once to Sudan, Lamb county, West Texas, where he is manager of the Newsome farms. An exceptionally good cotton crop is being gathered on that land and throughout Lamb county, this year. The Newsome land is making from a half to a bale per acre. Mr. Gay had an eighty-acre tract in cotton of his own that he planted June 1. Up to the close of October he had picked forty-six bales from the remainder of the crop after plowing up twenty-four acres of it in agreement with the Federal government crop reduction plan. He will get ten or twelve bales more from the fifty-six acres remaining. Pretty good cotton record for only 5 months from planting to picking. The government allowed him $17 per acre for the acreage plowed up. This editor was in this particular field of cotton himself in September and is not surprised at its splendid yield, because it looked then like it would turn out a bale per acre or more. This cotton was thick in the row and good size stalk. It is good lint of seven-eighths to an inch and-an- eighth and sells for 9 to 9½ cents per pound on the present market. There are lots more crops fully as good as this cotton being gathered on the Newsome farms this fall.

In that part of the lower Plains country insects do not bother cotton like they do in this section of the state. The worst objection we have to that part of the state is the sandstorm that is both disagreeable and damaging to crops sometimes, especially in the earlier spring months.

Mr. Gay says he never saw a prettier October for picking cotton than was had there this year.

The Newsome farms are comparatively fresh farming land, barely roling enough to drain well. It is a dark sandy loam soil on which a bale of cotton per acre is being picked this fall. Yet it can be bought at $35 per acre. It is paying for itself with the crop that is being gathered from it this fall alone in some instances.

". . . . The Torch . . . be yours to hold it high.
If Ye break Faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Field."

—By Col. Jno. C. McRae.

ARMISTICE DAY

"Let it not be said that we have failed to pay tribute where tribute is due"

Break faith we shall not. Holding high the Sacred Torch—The Torch of Heaven sent liberty—we shall "carry on." We shall value it as we value an eternal principle.

Americans we are, all of us. The very name holds in it something high and noble: the uncompromising integrity of a Washington; the trenchant wisdom of a Franklin; the humane charity of a Lincoln, fused by that firm adherence to justice and freedom which has earned our Nation the respect and gratitude of the hearts of the world.

Break faith we shall not. Loyalty to the community; loyalty to the country; loyalty to an ideal sternly beckon us onward and upward, ever bearing aloft the torch whose flame shall be immortal. Not all of us can be statesmen; not all of us can be heroes. But all of us—every one—can be true Americans, worthy citizens of the greatest Commonwealth that dwells in the memory of mankind.

Break faith we shall not. Is not the ownward path clearly marked? Honest endeavor, industrious efforts, scrupulous faith to the duties of good citisenship—these alone can qualify us to receive the torch from the hands of heroes in Flanders Field.

Church of this place for the past two years, was assigned to the pastorate of the Methodist church at Allen at the closing session, Sunday night of the annual North Texas Methodist conference at Denison. He is endowed with a brilliant mind, equipped with a splendid education, both literary and theological. These coupled with a rare insight of human nature and the true optimistic outlook of life; judging its frailities kindly; observing at all times the Golden rule, that of winning men and women, will carry him far in his chosen work in the Master's cause.

ganizing the institution, with the banking and supervision of Federal authority, that citizens of this community seeking investment will rally to its active support, thus keeping all of the money and the profit at home and materially hastening the return of normal prosperity and business activity.

Accredited Federal Authority.

As mentioned, the institution will be a member of the Federal Home Loan bank system and it will be accorded rediscounting privileges at the Federal Home Loan bank in Little Rock, thus bringing additional capital into the community for the purpose of increasing local business.

An important feature is that all money invested in the local Association remains at home, to provide employment for labor and materially affecting beneficially every line of business and profession. As the Association grows, so grows the community.

The regulations of the government in the formation of these Associations are simple and practical, wishing as it does to encourage each community to start work on a firm foundation for enduring recovery. Several types of shares will be open to investors, all arranged to suit individual convenience.

Local Community Responsibility.

Mr. Mason stated that the fundamental conception behind the Federal Savings and Loan plan was that each community should take upon itself the responsibility of furnishing, with the help of the government, the funds necessary to care for its home financing problems. That is, the repairing, remodeling, painting of existing homes or additions thereto, together with the construction of new homes when advisable.

Heretofore, money has been available for these purposes from outside sources. No money is available now, except from isolated private parties, and in any event not near enough to answer even the most acute existing need. It is the opinion of responsible authorities that the home financing problem can be best managed by local people who know the property and the character and the record of the borrower. If the money for these purposes is obtained from the large financial centers, the local situation is frequently adversely affected by industrial and commercial conditions which have no direct bearing on the home financing business, but which nevertheless cause artificial and useless fluctuations.

The sponsoring group in McKinney, as well as many other leading systems appreciate the need which exists and the value of this new association to the continued growth of the community. It is estimated that many thousands of dollars may now be profitably and safely employed in making loans for repairing and modernizing existing homes. It is the purpose of the citizens who are assuming leadership in this matter to reach the operating stage as early as possible, and with the cooperstion of other forward looking and progresive citizens, this aim should be shortly realized. Then, a beginning will have been made and a foundation erected upon which what is destined to become one of the most important organizations in the country, contributing over and over again to a greater growth and a renewed spirit.

McKinney Needs the Help.

In the opinion of Mr. Mason, the organization here has an unusual opportunity for service and success, not only on account of the excellent character of the gentlemen composing the organization group, but the general disposition and civic-mindedness of the people. He stated that these happy conditions existed here to a greater extent than in any city he had visited and assigned that as his reason for returning here to cooperate with the local citizens. He further stated that he finds conditions more favorable here than elsewhere. His opinion is that in most localities conditions are about the same, although the type of local difficulties might somewhat vary. The only difference is in the character of the people and the extent to which they are determined to work together and assist themselves out of the gloom of depressed spirit. This marked progressive disposition is manifest in McKinney, as reflected by the energy and determination of its people.

Mr. Mason is here representing the United States Government. His expenses are all paid out of Washington, and his services are available without cost to this community. He is here to assist.

school. After becoming grown he clerked in grocery stores most of his life and for seven or eight years owned and operated a grocery store of his own, being in partnership part of the time with Wade Biggers. He was a man of pleasing, quiet and obliging nature. Every acquaintance became his genuine friend, because of his upright character, honest dealings and obligingdisposition. On March, 1894, he professed religion in a protracted meeting conducted at the First Methodist church by its pastor, the late Rev. J. L. Morris. But, he joined the First Baptist church with his mother in which communion he continued to live the remainder of his life. No one doubted his Christianity or his integrity. He, was an affectionate husband, son and brother, a devoted father and a beloved neighbor. His sudden death was a profound shock to his friends over the city and county.

Funeral Thursday Afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at the family residence at 3:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon conducted by his pastor, Dr. J. H. Cozad of the First Baptist church assisted by Rev. Minor Bounds of the First Methodist church. Interment will follow in Pecan Grove cemetery under the direction of the Sam J. Massie & Son Funeral home.

Active pall bearers: B. F. Hearne, Frank Wolford, J. Woot Mallow, W. L. Holbert, Sam J. Massie and Duncan Holder.

Burial will follow in Pecan Grove cemetery.

His Survivors.

Mr. Ragsdale is survived by his wife, nee Cordia Reneau, daughter of the late A. L. Reneau, whom he married January 6, 1898, the late Eld. John M. McKinney officiating. He is also survived by two sons, Earl Ragsdale of McKinney and Frank Ragsdale of Kingfisher, Oklahoma, and by three grandchildren. He is also survived by these brothers, Clarence Ragsdale of Rhea's Mill, Ben R. Ragsdale of Huntington, West Virginia, and E. O. Ragsdale of McKinney. His three surviving sisters are Mrs. J Willis Rasor of near Frisco, Mrs. John M. Allen of Belleville, Illinois and Mrs. Ed Klapper, Tonkawa, Oklahoma. His father died here, March 30, 1933, while his mother passed away, July 12, 1903.

OBSERVE THEIR 41ST. WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

REV. AND MRS. J. BEN SNIDER ESTEEMED McKINNEY COUPLE

On Monday of this week, November 6, Rev. J. Ben Snider, veteran Collin County Baptist pastor, and wife observed their forty-first wedding anniversary. They were married at Forest Grove church by the late Rev. J. Ben Faulkner.

There is not a better known or more universally loved minister and wife in this city or county than Rev. and Mrs. Snider, and perhaps no one else in the county has preached more funerals or united in marriage more happy young couples than this good man of God. The lives of Rev. Snider and wife have proved a blessing to a host of friends who wish for them many more such happy wedding anniversaries.

YOUR HOME TOWN

SEEN HERE AND THERE

Thanks to Dick Allen, local insurance salesman, for a lovely bouquet of roses—"They're really the last roses of summer," he tells us; Mr. and Mrs. Allen have long been noted for the beautiful roses grown in their yard on West Heard street . . . Misses Maude Wilcox, Mary Purcell and other art club members helping arrange the art exhibit down at the coliseum for the pure food show . . . Lynn Squires, business analyst, here to make a series of business addresses, comes by to meet our office force . . . The ladies of the First Presbyterian church promise you a delightful time down at the four-day fair and food show . . . It didn't take folks long to discover evidences of a frost, after the sun was up this morning; ice was present, too . . . Tom Hughston, manager of the Collin County Cotton Oil company, is one of the city's best-liked young business men . . . J. F. Bone enjoying the sunshine in front of his place of business . . . G. G. McAlexander, McKinney Dry Goods company manager, smiling to a friend while out in town . . . Mrs. Eva Mashburn, home economist of the T. P. & L. company, is certainly making a lot of friends down at the cooking school at the fair and food show.

IDEAL WEATHER

What could be more delightful, speaking of the weather, than yesterday's and today's offering, including an unclouded sky, the atmosphere just brisk enough to make one step lively, and with Old Sol doing his best to make weather conditions ideal.

ATTRACTIVE SCENE

If it is true that "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," then McKinneyites who attend the annual fair and food show, now in progress down at the coliseum, will long remember this nineteenth annual event. The coliseum was never more beautiful, with a myriad of lovely colors that linger long in one's memory after their departure from that attractive spot.

THAT COOKING SCHOOL

Just a word here about that cooking school, which is featuring the annual fair and food show of the First Presbyterian ladies down at the coliseum this week. The ladies of the city and community are missing a splendid opportunity if they fail to take advantage of the cooking school, sponsored by the Texas Power & Light company, of which Howard S. Ware is manager. The setting is a lovely and an attractive one and Mrs. Eva Mashburn, who is conducting the school (being home economist for the T. P. & L. company) is an expert in the culinary art. She is giving the housewives a sensible, practical school in cooking, that will prove valuable to them in after years. The course is a complete one and no doubt will prove popular with the housewives of the city and community.

ARMISTICE DAY

The above paraghaph reminds us that Armistice Day will be observed in McKinney a week from today—Saturday, Nov. 11, with the Jimmie Geigas Legion post in charge of the day's program, which will be given about 10:30 or 11 o'clock that morning at the courthouse.

MERCHANTS TO CLOSE

Secretary C. E. Graves of the Retail Merchants' association announced that because the occasion falls on Saturday this year, business houses will be closed only from 10:30 to 12 that morning, during the time the program is in progress. Make your plans now to attend that program and fill the district courtroom to overflowing.

"KANGAROO COURT"

The program in the forenoon, however, isn't the only form of entertainment scheduled during the day. Early that morning, visitors downtown are likely to be "arested" and brought to trial in a "Kangaroo Court," on the northwest corner of the public square. This "Kangaroo Court" feature was originated here last year and proved such a success, affording fun and amusement for everyone, that it is to be continued. After you've been "arrested," stand around for awhile and enjoy the fun.

EATS FOR EVERYONE

Legionnaires plan another form of entertainment Nov. 11, when that night they will give a barbecue for all ex-service men and their families in this city. From all appearances, indications point to this as being one of the most interesting Armistice Day celebrations in the history of the city and county.

Mrs. W. A. Greer and children, Willena and Joe Carl, of Rogers, Ark., returned to their former home at Sherman Wednesday where they will visit for a few days before going on back to Arkansas.

Many tenants are hunting homes to rent for 1934.

Mrs. Jack Durkee and Mrs. Frank Byers of Weleeka, Okla., have been here several days visiting Mrs. Durkee's mother, Mrs. C. T. Davis, and her aunt, Mrs. O. L. Hope, and family. Mrs. Durkee was formerly Miss Lucille Davis, and often visited in McKinney where she has many friends.

Dick Allen, Says:

"Get an option on an additional amount of insurance for five long years thus protecting your present age rate. YOU ARE NOT OBLIGATED TO TAKE MORE but most certainly most of us hope to INCREASE OUR INSURANCE ESTATE year by year. Nothing like this policy ever before written—it's the 'talk of Texas' where it has been properly presented. Not only have you the opportunity of increasing the amount in five years but—if you pay one full premium in 1933 THERE IS NO CASH PAYMENT DUE IN 1934; or, if you prefer and if your finances demand then you may pay one-half (½) the first year's premium in 1933 and the other one-half (½) in 1934—one year from date of policy—no interest. (The latter arrangement does not effect your policy in case of death.) Let me explain this most unusual policy NOW.

Yours For Insurance Service

Dick Allen,

McKinney, Texas

Double In 8 Years

What a Grain

THERE ARE 2,718,240 INSURANCE POLICIES IN TEXAS carrying a total of $3,176,316,478.00 (Three Billion, one hundred seventy-six million, three hundred sixteen thousands, four hundred and seventy-eight dollars) IN INSURANCE. The number of policies in Texas has doubled during the past eight years.

Texas Life Insurance Marches On

During the year of 1932 Texas policyholders and beneficiaries received a total of—

$70,800,000.00

(Seventy Million, Eight Hundred Thousand Dollars)

The above shows an INCREASE of $12,100,000.00 or 21%, over 1931 which was $58,700,000.00. While Texas is only 5th in Population yet the INSURANCE INCOME for 1932 was 11th in the whole United States. "The Womaniess Divorce Case" was given in the High school at Farmersville, with eighteen men of that city forming the cast. The play was a scream from start to finish, with many of the men dressed in woman's apparel. Besides the play several musical numbers were enjoyed. A large crowd attended the presentation.

Madcaps Will Present Play Friday Night

All roads will lead to the Pope theater in McKinney Friday when the Madcap Players open a limited engagement of two days in the sterling comedy "Take My Advice." They bring with them complete scenery and effects that were used for the production in Dallas and present the full two-hour show, with music between acts, by the Madcap Orchestra under the direction of Les Ainsley.

Leon (Toby) Gunn, who heads the company, is no stranger to this section, having won many friends on his previous visits to McKinney. All the old favorites who were formerly identified with Mr. Gunn are returning and many new faces make the company stronger than ever before.

"Take My Advice" the opening vehicle of the company, is a strong, breezy comedy with a wealth of laughs and many surprises. It affords every member of the cast ample opportunity to display their ability to the fullest extent and was chosen because of its unusual entertainment value to all ages and classes.

Messrs. Hearn and Gunn are bringing twenty-five people to this engagement, including the Madcap Orchestra under the direction of Les Ainsley, a complete company staff and scenic artist, all of which guarantees high class entertainment at bargain prices. Fifteen cents for children, twenty-five in the balcony and thirty-five downstairs. Remember the limited engagement. Friday and Saturday nights, only, at eight o'clock.

LOCAL BUSINESS TRAINING COURSE IS POSTPONED

WILL BE HELD AT LATER DATE BY LYNN SQUIRES

At the close of Lynn Squires' lecture on Tuesday evening, concluding the "Better Business Meetings" held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants, it was announced that Mr. Squires would remain in McKinney to conduct an intensive "School of Salesmanship" for the balance of the week.

However, sponsors find that many are interested in taking such a course of training, wish to participate and lend their support to the fair and pure food show and the sponsors feel it best for all concerned to postpone the course of training until a later date, since they do not want to do anything that might detract or divide interest in this annual event which is being sponsored by the ladies of the First Presbyterian church.
